

STOSSAG

Foreword

The staff of Stosag is proud to present this yearbook to the class of 1961. Since the start of the Stockbridge School of Agriculture at the University of Massachusetts in 1918, it has been the goal of every graduating class to achieve a high standard of education. However, it was not until the graduating class of 1961 that the granting of the Associate Degree was approved. Future classes will receive the degree, but they can never feel the satisfaction of this milestone as the members of this graduating class do.

A yearbook perpetuates the traditions and spirit of a college course in the minds of its graduates; and what better method of preserving these, so adding to the honor and dignity of the Two-Year course than to base the foundation of every edition of the Stosag upon them? If, when you pick up this book in the future, it brings back pleasant memories of college life, we will have achieved our goal.

After being graduated from Michigan State University in 1941, Mr. Gordon S. King worked for the B. F. Goodrich Company on one of their African plantations. On his return he accepted the position of Assistant City Arbortist for the City of Lansing, Michigan.

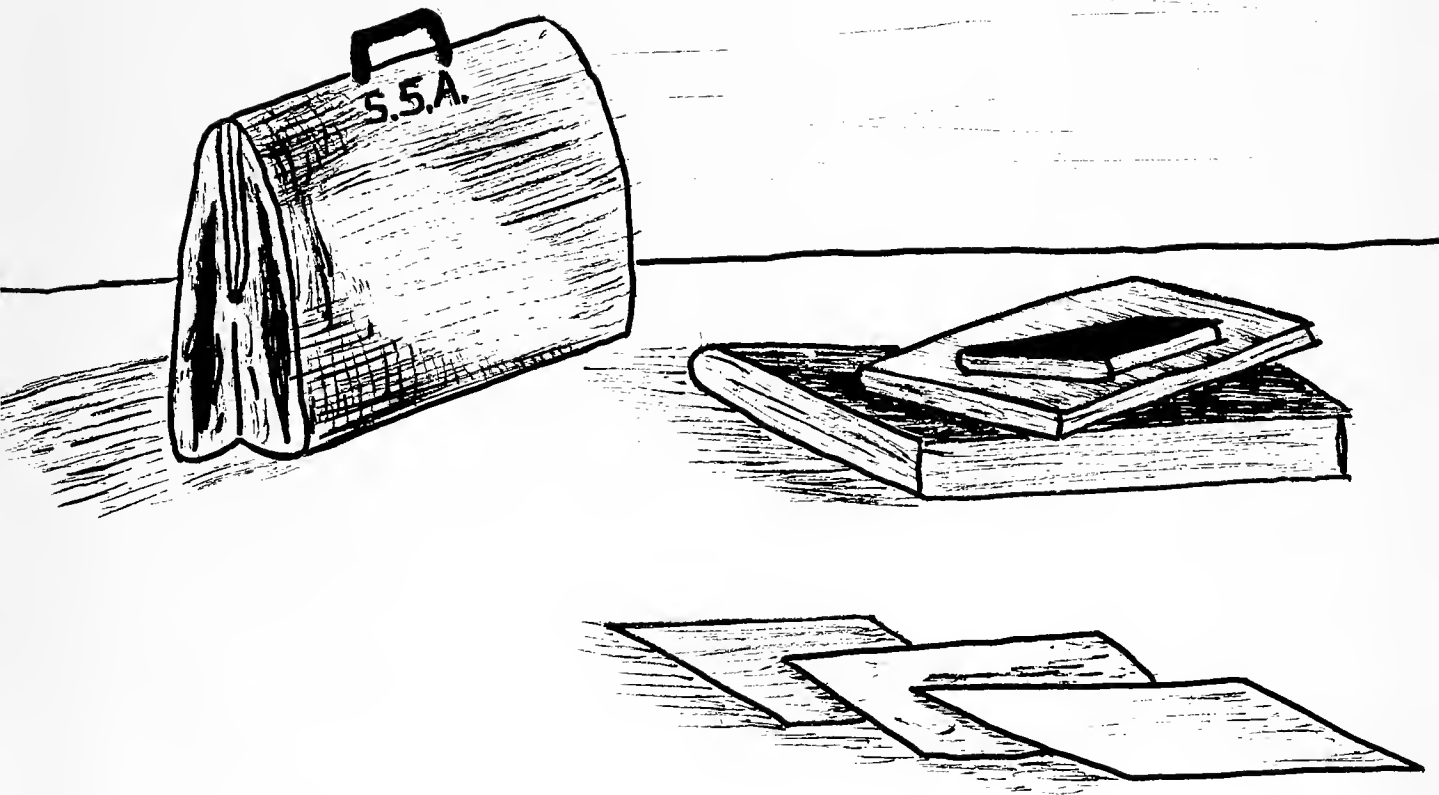

In 1950 Mr. King was appointed Assistant professor of Aboriculture here at Stockbridge. He received his Master's degree from the University of Massachusetts in 1956, and was promoted to Associate Professorship.

For the past three years Mr. King has been advisor to the Student Senate, and has joined us in our struggles to achieve a higher scholastic standard for ourselves and for the School. He has been more than a friend, advisor, or helping hand; for without his help and understanding many of the projects which are now completed would never have been possible.

We owe a lot to Mr. King. Therefore, although our gratitude could never be fully shown, we, the Class of '61, should like to express a small part of our sincere appreciation by dedicating this 43rd edition of our yearbook to Mr. Gordon S. King.

President's Message

The University of Massachusetts is justly proud of the Stockbridge School. In recognition of its quality and effectiveness, the Board of Trustees has unanimously approved the grant to Stockbridge graduates in June of 1961 of the degree of Associate in Agriculture. I am pleased that during my first year at the University such an added distinction could be awarded to a group which has through the years demonstrated outstanding spirit and unity, and whose alumni enthusiasm has been most helpful. I am confident that the Stockbridge School will continue to contribute importantly to the educational program of our dynamic University.

MESSAGE FOR STOSAG

Levi Stockbridge was a colorful figure in our University history. He combined a thorough training in practical farming with a desire to extend his knowledge and the knowledge of others in the field of agriculture. I trust that the graduates of the Stockbridge School will take pride in the traditions of their University and of their School which bears Levi Stockbridge's name.

I am sorry that my assignment abroad will make it impossible for me to be at the Stockbridge graduation when the first associate in agriculture degrees are to be offered. This is another milestone in the history of the School. My best wishes go with each of you as you leave the University community. I trust that you will take a deep interest as loyal and active alumni in the future of the Stockbridge School. Your education on this campus and in your work program have enhanced your capabilities to be productive and sincere citizens, worthy descendants of Levi Stockbridge.

Shannon McCune
Provost

Director Fred P. Jeffrey

The Class of 1961 will be remembered as the first one whose members received the Associate Degree upon graduation. This has been made possible through the work of both students and faculty and the active assistance of former Provost McCune and President Lederle.

During the past two years your director has not had sufficient time to really look after the Stockbridge students because of his responsibilities as Acting Dean of the College of Agriculture. Under these conditions it has been gratifying to find leaders in the Class of 1961 who have worked long and hard for the welfare of the school. I wish each one of you happiness and best wishes.

OFFICE STAFF

It may truly be said that the completion of the great amount of work which the Stockbridge School office has to cope with should surely never be accomplished without the dedication and tireless effort of the office staff itself.

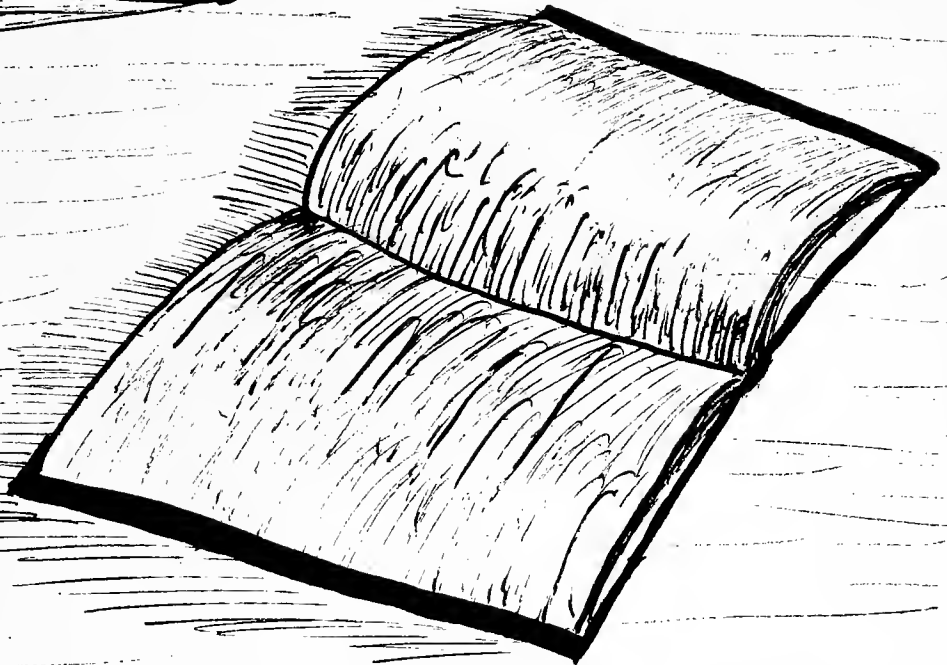

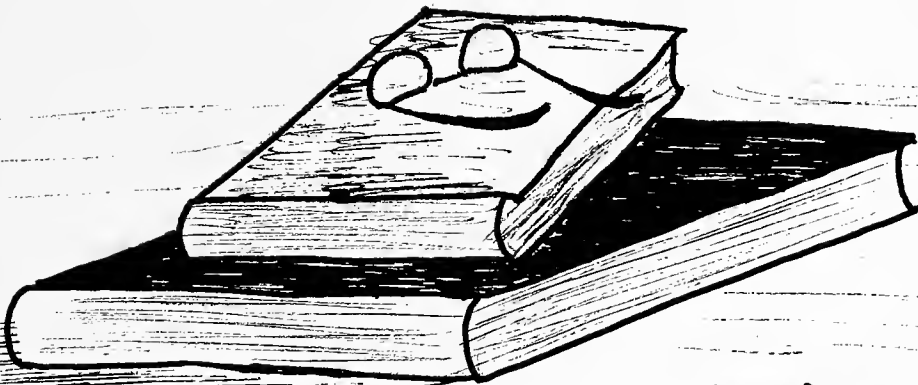

The Editor and members of the Stosag Board wish to give special thanks for the patience and time afforded us by the staff in helping us complete the many routine and not so routine tasks that we asked of them.

Clubs and Organizations

Landscape Operations Club

The Landscape Operations Club has met on the second Tuesday of each month during the past academic year. The Club has been ably led by Dick Dumaine as President; Richard Grey, Vice President; Douglas Chapman, Secretary; and Edward Orlando, Treasurer.

The program supplements class lecture material with outside speakers who are experts in their field. A question-and-answer period usually follows, with Professor Blundell, adviser to the Club, also participating. At the end of the year the Club holds its annual banquet.

This year the Arbor Club was right in the swing of things from the beginning of the year. We started off with a contest, with the seniors challenging the freshmen. The contest consisted of tree climbing, rope climbing, logsawing, rope throwing, and shinnying. The seniors won; but when challenged by the freshmen to a rope pull across the college pond, they took the dunking in high spirits.

Professor King was our first speaker of the year, and spoke of his work as forester on a rubber plantation in Africa. His talk was accompanied by slides.

Professor Putala, of the Botany Department, explained the process of coal formation in a very educational and interesting manner, typical of him.

Poultry

During 1960-1961 the Poultry Science Club has expanded its program under the leadership of Charles Wabeck as President, Kick Lounsbury as Vice-President, Nancy R. Smith as Secretary-Treasurer, and Robert F. Smith as faculty advisor.

The initial meeting was a coffee hour held at Stockbridge House on campus, which gave the new members opportunity to meet informally with the poultry faculty. Subsequent meetings included motion pictures on poultry subjects. Mr. Stanley Reed, district manager of Wirthmore Feed, spoke about opportunities in salesmanship in the feed industry. Dean Jeffrey of the College of Agriculture explained some of the problems of industry recruitment and the opportunities open to people trained in the field of Poultry Science.

Affiliation was re-established with the National Collegiate Poultry Club, an organization serving to correlate the efforts of the several poultry clubs at colleges throughout the country.

The academic year's activities traditionally terminated with a banquet and evening of fellowship.

The Animal Husbandry Club is a student organization composed primarily of Animal Science majors in the University and Stockbridge School.

The Club meets on the second Wednesday of every month for a short business meeting followed by a speaker chosen from outstanding individuals in agriculture.

One of the year's outstanding talks was presented by Donald Watson, Editor, "New England Homestead," who presented his views of agriculture behind the "Iron Curtain."

Annually, the Club sponsors the "Little International Livestock Show," a major activity for all Animal Science majors.

It is anticipated that another successful year's activities will be topped off with the traditional steak-fry held as the final club activity in May.

Olericulture Club

The Olericulture Club met once in Bowditch Hall to hear an informal talk on vegetable growing in the Southwest. Slides were shown and refreshments were served after the meeting. Mr. Tuttle, advisor, supervised the group this year.

Last November the Club erected a small toolshed near a bean patch in the Horticultural Show. Mr. Tuttle lent some bean trellises and sod was cut from a neighboring hillside.

At a recent meeting, a decision to unite the flower, fruit, and vegetable clubs for a varied and more educationally profitable year was proposed. Three of four meetings with speakers and movies could be arranged, as well as some suppers and social events. Although the new Horticulture Club would be larger, the Olericulture Department feels it would gain by pooling its resources with the Floriculture and Pomology Departments.

Food Distribution

Incepted this year, Food Distribution is a new club providing many informative and interesting insights into today's dynamic food industry. Meetings are held every Wednesday evening in the Student Union Building, where informative lecture-group discussions are presented by top industry men. Ken Mead, President; and Richard Vanderhoeff, Vice President have done an excellent job of organizing the activities, field trips, and meetings, coordinated advised by Dr. Theodore W. Leed of the Department of Agricultural Economics.

Due to the efforts of our officers, and especially Dr. Leed, we have had such outstanding industry leaders as Presidents, and General Managers of Food Chains, Research and Development men, Warehousing and Distribution Directors, and various other speakers. These men provided a keen insight into the problems faced in the industry today.

ALLIED SERVICES

The Flori Club is an organization to which all interested students may belong. Monthly meetings are held at French Hall, with guest speakers including prominent designers from neighboring florists' shops, owners of large greenhouse ranges, and interested faculty members of the past and present.

The Club enjoys a yearly field trip to Pierson's and Spaulding's in Connecticut, the former being one of the biggest greenhouse ranges in the East.

The officers for 1960-1961 are as follows: President, Millard Fritz; Vice-President, Peter Schwamb; Secretary, Ann Frazier; Treasurer, Cynthia Stiles; Senate Representative, James Hodder; Advisor, Mr. Randolph Jester.

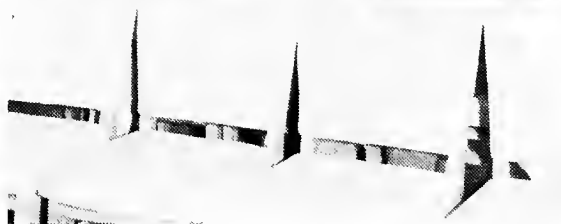

The Steward's Club is an organization whose main purpose is to further the relationship between its members and the hotel and restaurant industry.

During the year, the Club catered to several of the parties which were held on campus including the International Food Technologist's Luncheon, the Newcomer's Tea, the dedication of Bartlett Hall and the Food Seminar. The Club also prepared and served President Lederle's Christmas Party in the Ballroom.

Membership is made up of the Food Management majors of the Stockbridge School. Last fall all the members with their advisor went on a field trip to Kendall Caterers in Fitchburg. Here they met various men who were connected with the catering aspect of our industry and were served a delicious hot buffet.

Frequent business meetings are held in the Student Union. The Stewards, do not devote all their time to work, however; they had a very nice Christmas party catered to them before vacation.

Pomology

The Pomology Club, comprised of 2 and 4 year students, was led this year by Lew Ring, President; Dave Cheney, Vice President; Bruce Ogelby, Secretary, and Daniel Washburn, Treasurer.

The main project undertaken this year was the Club's exhibit in the annual Horticultural Show in the Curry Hicks Cage. A grape vine showing the four cane Kniffen system of training vines was the main object in the display.

The Club holds meetings once a month and has invited speakers as the program. These speakers informed the members of the future in the fruit industry and of the latest scientific achievements in fruit propagation.

Under the advisership of Instructor Joseph Mowson, the Forestry Club's purpose is to maintain and stimulate an interest in forestry and wood products among the students. The Club is composed of University and Stockbridge students, with any member able to hold office.

The Forestry Club meets once a month at Skinner Auditorium, and at every meeting prominent speakers are selected to lecture to the students on basic and current trends in the field of forestry.

The Club conducts many social events the first of which was a roast beef dinner at our annual banquet in November. In the spring we ended with a square and round dance which was enjoyed by faculty and students alike.

STOSAG BOARD

Though a lack of student co-operation hampered the Stosag Board's activities this past year, the yearbook has been successfully completed with the help of a few dedicated individuals.

Our work during the past year has been hampered by a new staff and new advisers. Our publishers, Progress Publishers of Albany, New York, has merged with American Yearbook Company of Hannibal, Missouri, which has resulted in a bigger and better yearbook with much more help for the staff.

This year also marks a new milestone in Stosag history. A complete yearbook including commencement weekend and graduation pages, is being published for the first time this year.

We would like to thank those people who contributed pictures to supplement those taken by Loring Studios, our official photographer. We would also like to thank those persons who did writeups and who helped in identification of pictures so that this would be the best yearbook published by any Stosag Board.

The Student Senate again enjoyed a fruitful year under the expert guidance of its officers and efforts of its members.

Perhaps the greatest achievement of the Senate was the inception of the Associate Degree. This scholastic milestone was ably spearheaded by Joe Garrity and his committee.

The annual Sno-Ball Dance, sponsored by the Stockbridge Senate, was held in the Student Union Ballroom and was considered by many to be the best Sno-Ball Dance ever held.

The Annual Progress Banquet, which was again organized and directed by the Student Senate was held on March 27 at the Student Union Ballroom. Roast rounds of beef served by Kendall Caterers were enjoyed by all.

The Senate wishes to thank the student body for their support which helped make the year a success.

The Club Officers this year were: President, Richard Stenberg; Vice-president, Edward Orlando; Secretary-Treasurer, James Mitchell; Executive Officer, Daniel Washburn; Team Captain, Charles Nelson; and Coach, Colonel Marchant.

1960-61 marked the second year of active competition for the Stockbridge Rifle Team, with 18 opponents scheduled from California to Maine. Returning lettermen Dick Nelson, Fred Lotter, Ray Ciesluk and Dick Stenberg had over forty new candidates battling them for places on a team which showed considerable improvement over last season's effort.

Up to publishing time the Stockbridge team had won 8 out of the 16 matches fired in its 18-match schedule. A loss to the University of North Carolina by six points was offset by a win over North Dakota State University by 3 points in the club's tangles with larger schools, and the riflemen have hopes of making Stockbridge a team to be respected by other colleges and universities around the country.

Football

We started the year out with a game against Worcester Academy. Stockbridge did well until Worcester took to the air and from then on we went downhill.

A week later we traveled to Mt. Hermon School with high hopes. Mt. Hermon had lost most of their better players in the graduating senior class. We were surprised to find a well drilled team and suffered another loss.

Deerfield Academy was over-confident and we gave them a hard time until the half. The second half they got back on their feet and we began to tire as we showed lack of practice. They beat us by 3 touchdowns.

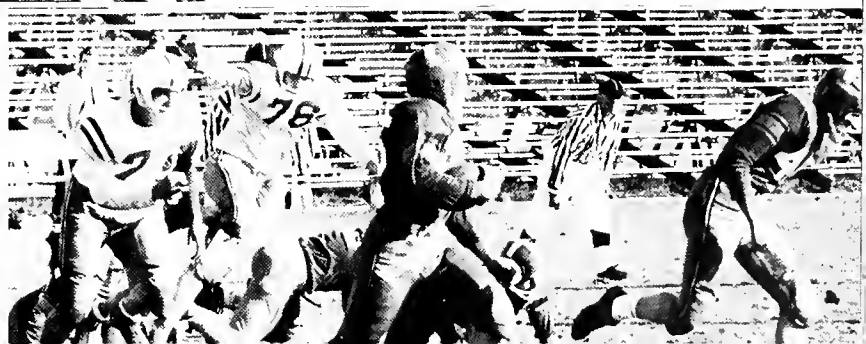

The next two weeks Coach Steve Kosakowski gave us a work out that we will never forget. He ran our legs off. The practice paid off as we went against U. Mass. Frosh and gave them a run for their money.

Our last game was the highlight of the year as we beat Monson Academy. We all had a change to play any position we wanted and enjoyed every minute of it. Chuck Harris made two attempts to kick a field goal and made the second one.

We all enjoyed playing even though we didn't have a winning season.

We give our thanks to Coach Steve Kosakowski for his time and effort and wish him the best of luck next year.

Progress Banquet

The Progress Banquet, again run by the Stockbridge Senate, was quite successful. Kendall Caterers of Fitchburg, Massachusetts, served a sumptuous meal enjoyed by all.

Dean Jeffrey first named the members of Stosag, the Stockbridge School Honor Society.

Colonel John C. Marchant, coach of the Stockbridge Rifle Team, presented awards to the members of the Rifle Team.

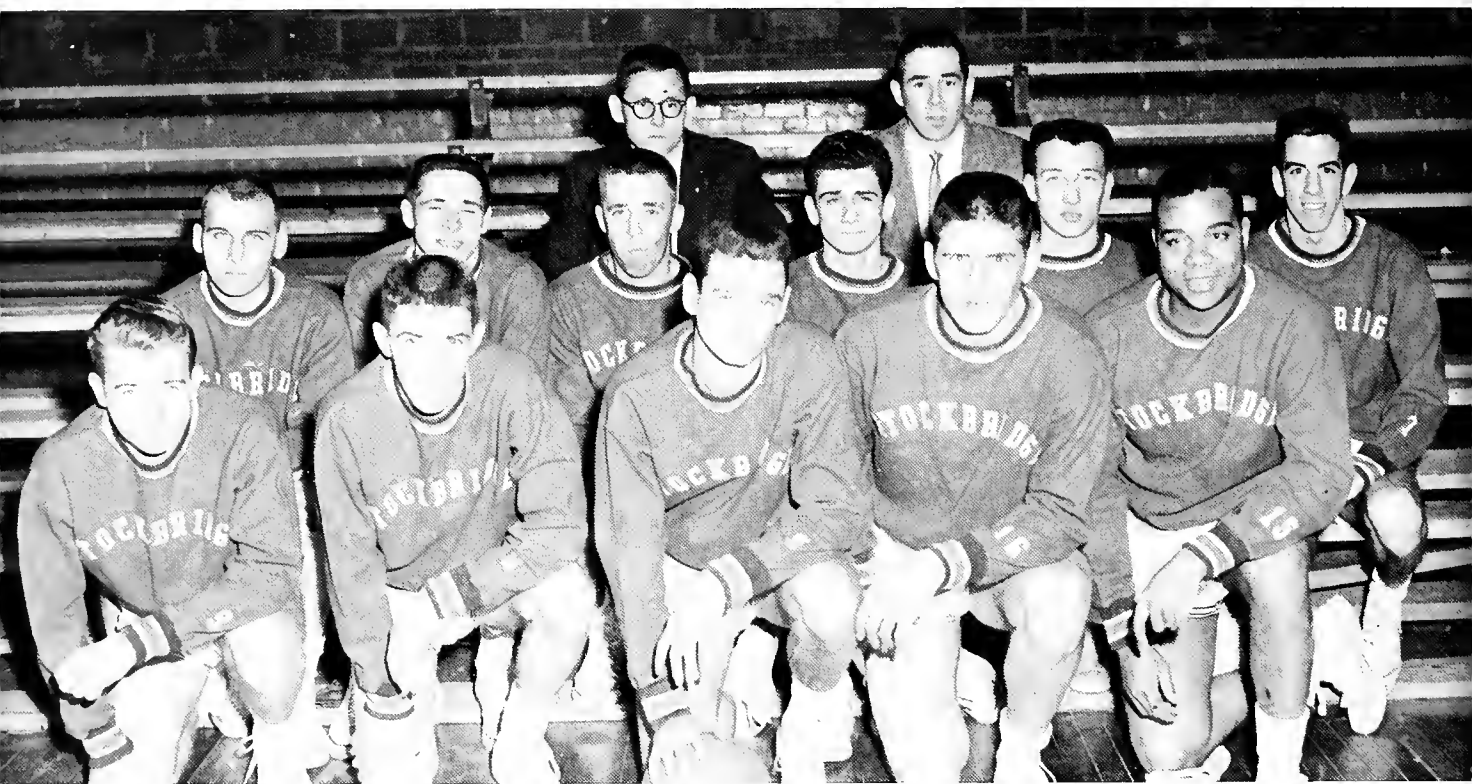

Next, Richard Berquist, coach of the Stockbridge Basketball Team, presented awards to the members of the team. Carlton Huff received the most valuable player award in basketball.

Following tradition, Coach Kosakowski was the longest winded of the many speakers; he then presented awards to the Track Team comprised of Paul Bleau, Robert Cormier. Thomas Steeves, Stockbridge's outstanding gymnast and also manager of the University's gymnast team, received an award for his outstanding performance in gymnastics. Coach Kosakowski then presented awards to the Stockbridge Football Team with the outstanding award going to Everett Wood.

Congratulations to all those who represented Stockbridge so well in so many fields of interest and to those who worked to organize the banquet.

Basketball

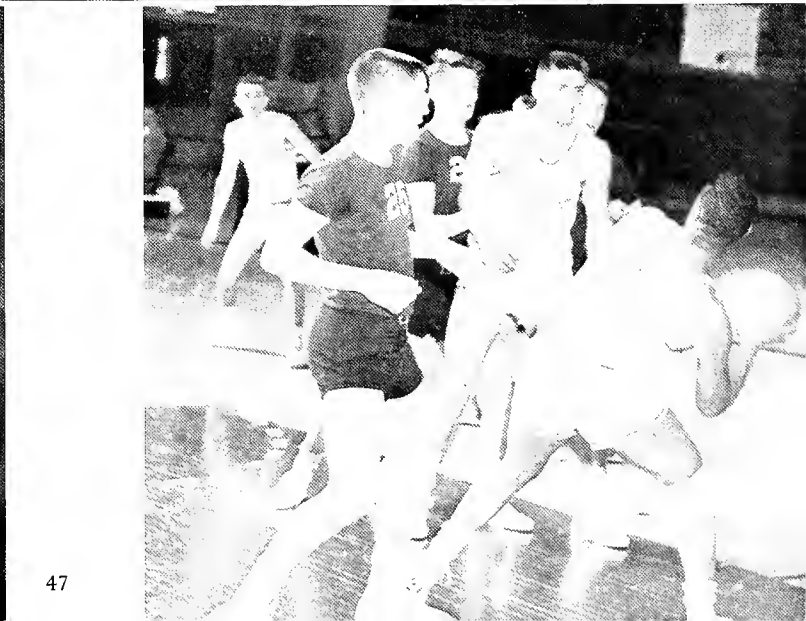

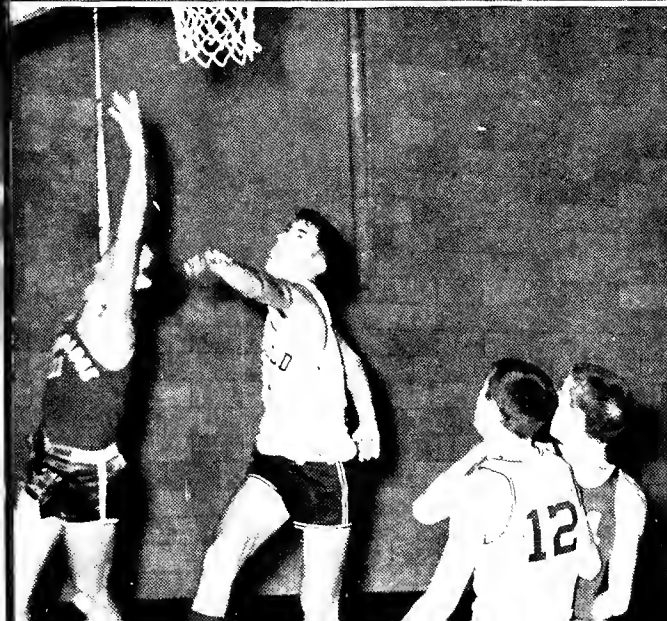

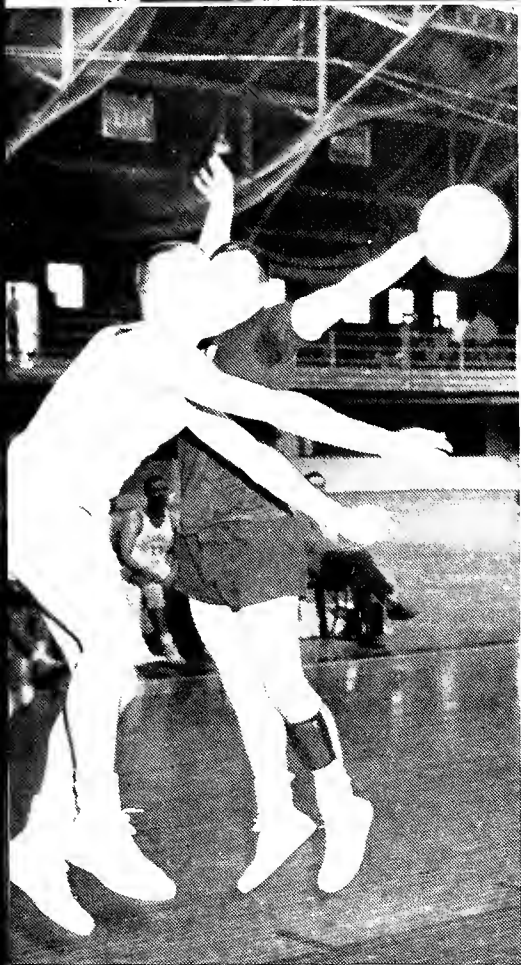

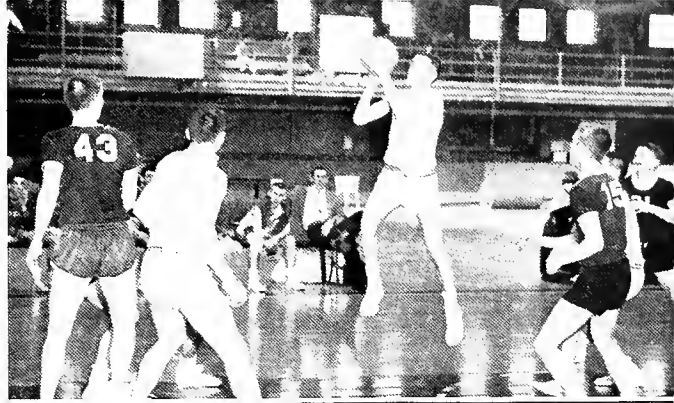

Opening practice sessions began with a vigorous group of candidates, under the leadership of coach, Dick Berquist. The coach had a fine aggregation of good offensive and defensive plays, which the team had many chances to put into effect. The returning veterans, captain Bob Goyette, Carl Huff, Al Clayton, Denny Dowd, and Bob Hiltz had a hard fight retaining their positions because the freshmen were set to move them out.

The first half of the season was shaded with losses. As the team became better acquainted to each others moves, the light began to shine. The cage was wild, as the second half of the season opened with the submerging of Monson Academy.

After suffering another close game with Northampton Commercial College, we had an exciting three game winning streak.

Without the high scoring ability of the freshmen teammates, we would not have been able to average a score of 60 points per game. Having had only 2 wins in the last season the team was determined and ultimately successful in surpassing this goal.

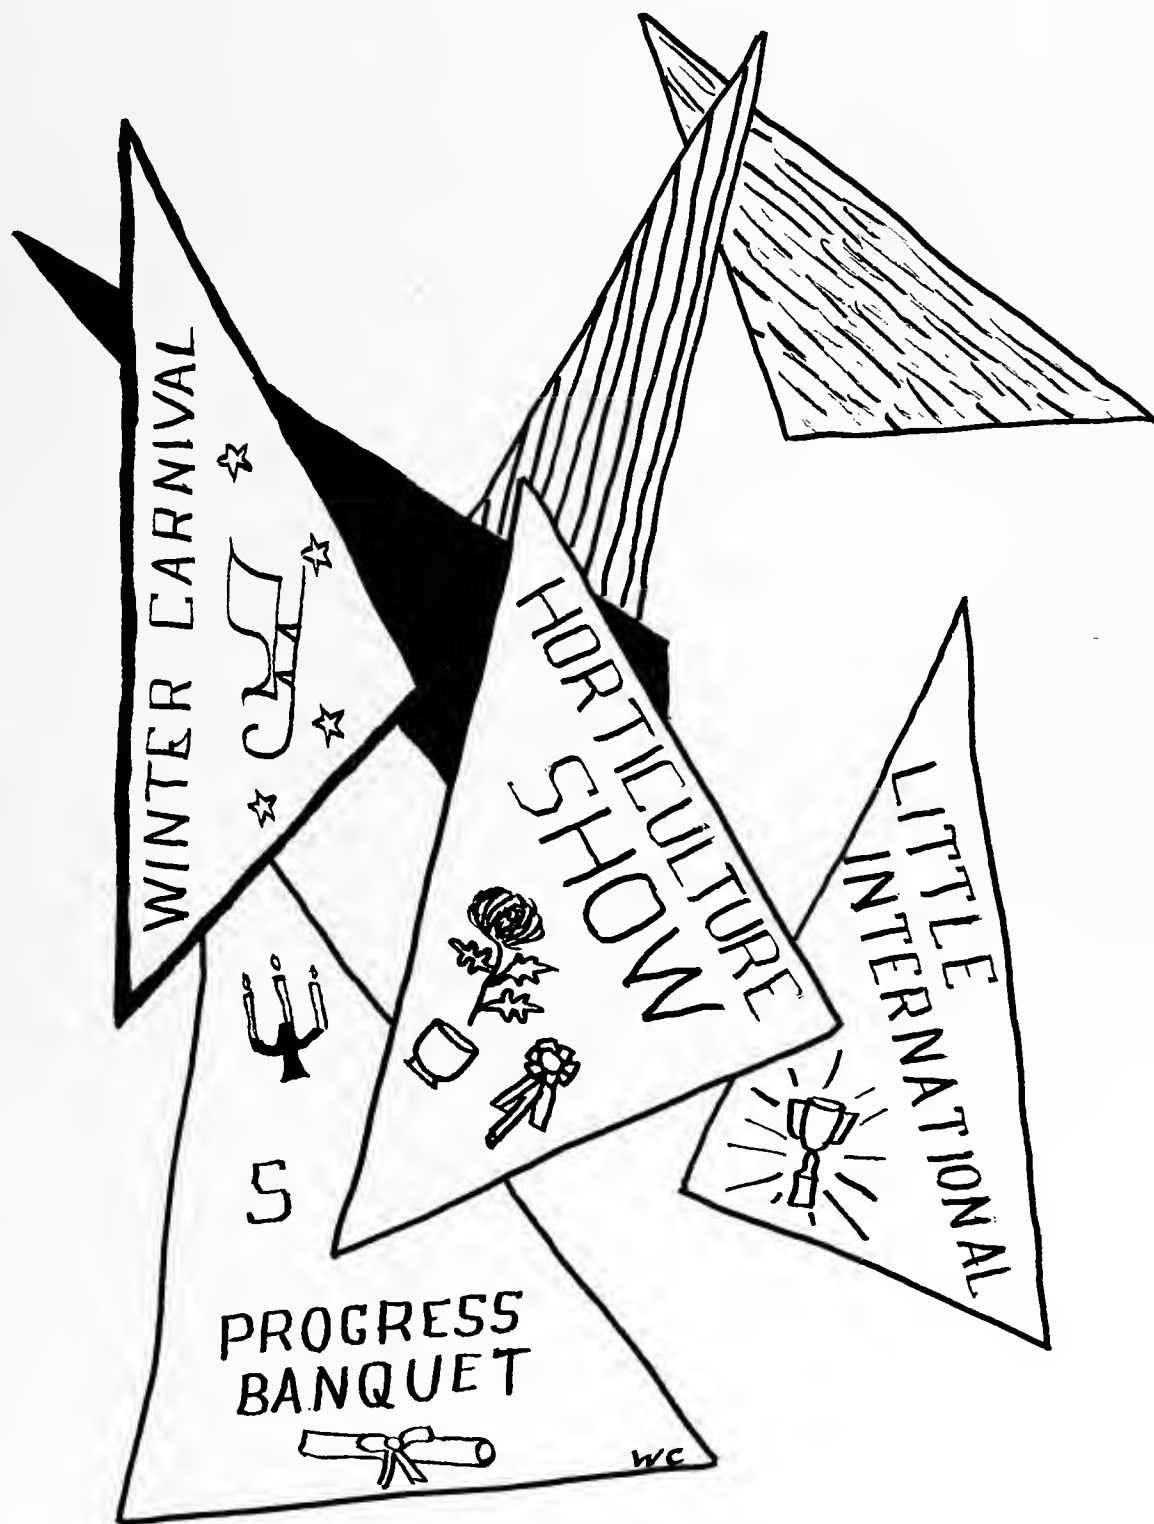

With such promising freshmen, the team is assured of a successful basketball season next year for Stockbridge.

Varsity "S"

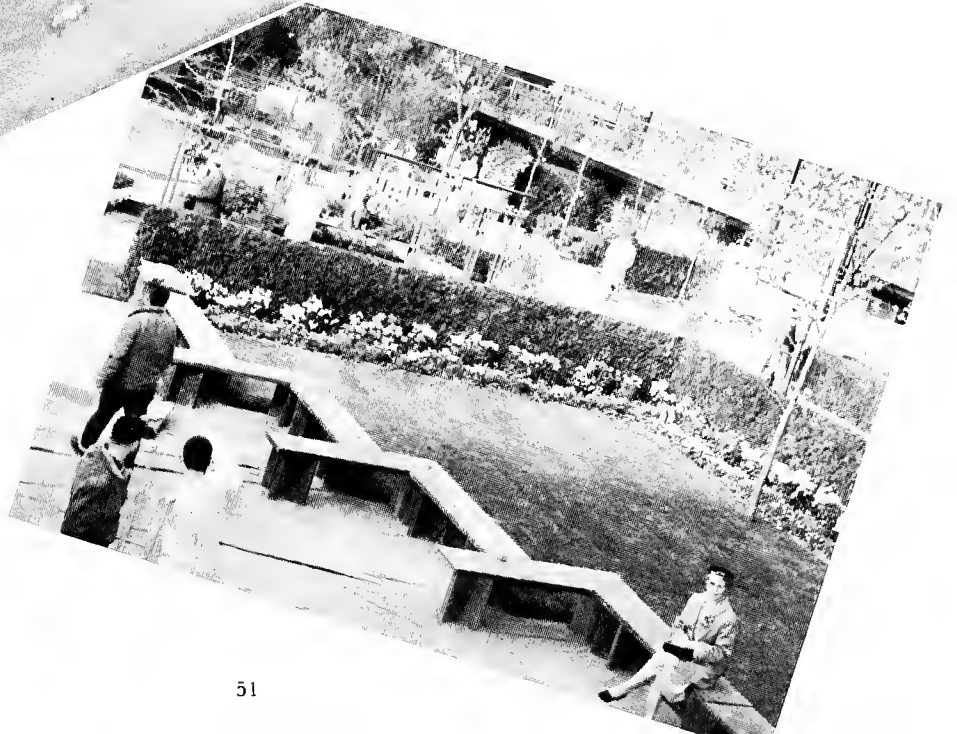

Because of an unusually large group we are not able to supply all of the names with these group shots. However Everett Wood received the Most Outstanding Player Award in Football, and Carlton Huff received the Most Outstanding Player Award in Basketball.

Special Activities

Sno-Ball

This year's Winter Carnival Weekend proved successful with the help of "Old Man Winter" who gave us an abundant snowfall and frigid temperatures.

The highlight of the weekend was the Annual Sno-Ball Dance with music provided by the "tardy" Tony Abbot Orchestra.

President and Mrs. Lederle, and Dean and Mrs. Jeffreys, the guests of honor. They, along with the other couples, thoroughly enjoyed dancing in the Ballroom decorated in the theme "Little Bit of Yesterday."

To all who attended, the Sno-Ball dance proved to be a fitting climax to a most enjoyable Winter Carnival Weekend.

The 21st Little International Livestock Show was presented on March 18, 1961 by the Stockbridge Animal Husbandry seniors and the University Animal Science juniors. This is an annual event that is modeled after the International Livestock Show in Chicago. However, the students are judged on their ability to prepare, fit, and show their animals and not on the conformation or finish of the animals. This is because they have no control over feeding or selecting the animals.

Fitting started several weeks in advance of the show. Rumor has it that the pig-men were planning to parade their hogs through the lobby of the Student Union. However, the pigs didn't cooperate.

The top two winners in each class competed for the Premier Showmanship award. This coveted award was won by Miss Barbara Johnston, a Stockbridge Animal Husbandry senior. Reserve Premier Showman was Robert Laprise and Carlton Tuff was given Honorable Mention. Both are Animal Husbandry seniors in Stockbridge.

For special events, the sorority girls gave us a lot of laughs as they competed in the "Co-ed Milking Contest." The girls are getting better.

A new, unusual event was a Vermont sheep dog demonstration. Though hampered by limited space and sheep that were not familiar with a sheep dog, the dog showed his ability and gave a good demonstration.

The show promotes sportsmanship and gives the students a feeling of the show ring.

Little International

Horticultural Show

Urban Gardens, the theme of the 48th annual Horticultural Show combined the efforts of all the Stockbridge majors and agricultural students of the university. The show was composed of seven separate urban gardens in conjunction with the students' 10 x 10's and club exhibits.

Awards were given for outstanding 10 x 10's and commercial exhibits at the Horticultural Banquet.

The banquet, inaugurated this year, is to be an annual feature of the Horticultural Show.

The florist shop, operated by the Floriculture students and the dining concession, operated by the Food Management students added to the public's enjoyment of the show.

This year's show, we feel, fulfilled its purpose of stimulating the public into more garden consciousness.

Alpha Tau Gamma

In accordance with the progress made by the Stockbridge School, the Fraternity of Alpha Tau Gamma has taken a large stride forward. Under the careful supervision of Gerry Gerkowski, steward, Normand Lebel, president, and all of the brothers and pledges, the house has installed an excellent and greatly needed kitchen and dining room. The addition is this years most worth-while endeavor. Another endeavor, the collecting of 17,000 cigarette packs, secured first place for us in the Marlboro Contest and won for us a fine stereo.

The social life at ATG commenced with a smoker for the introduction of freshmen to the House. Louie Alosso, social chairman 59, spoke to the boys on the advantages of Fraternity Life. Many of the boys, forseeing the benefits and accepting the responsibilities, joined in on the Fall activities. A get-together of all Brothers, "Rushees" and their dates preceeded one of the biggest calendar events at UMass. The annual Home Coming Weekend was highlighted by the Float Parade, ATG's theme being "This Case Is Closed, UConn King" — (Sergeant Preston).

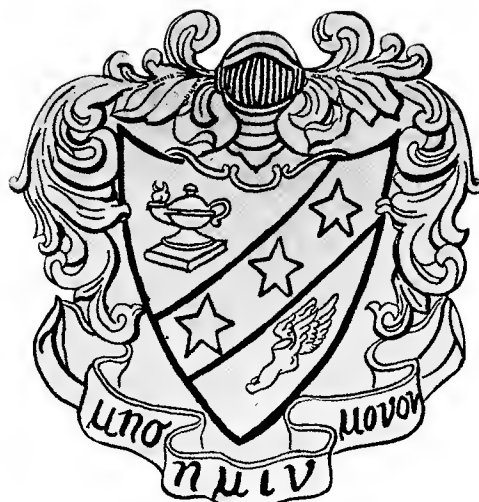

These gatherings of the first semester, including the Hort Show, ended with a tremendous Christmas party, which packed the House and applauded the visit of Santa Claus. The heavy snowfalls proved a double blessing in stranding some of the boys at the House to polish up the kitchen for its opening as well as in supplying ample raw material for the snow sculpture.

During the course of the year ATG participated in all of the I.F.C.'s activities; sports, sings, skits, theme parties and chariot races. The fun and acquaintances made more than compensate for our losses. February 24 and March 11 will be remembered, by the pledges as their sorest and most rewarding nights.

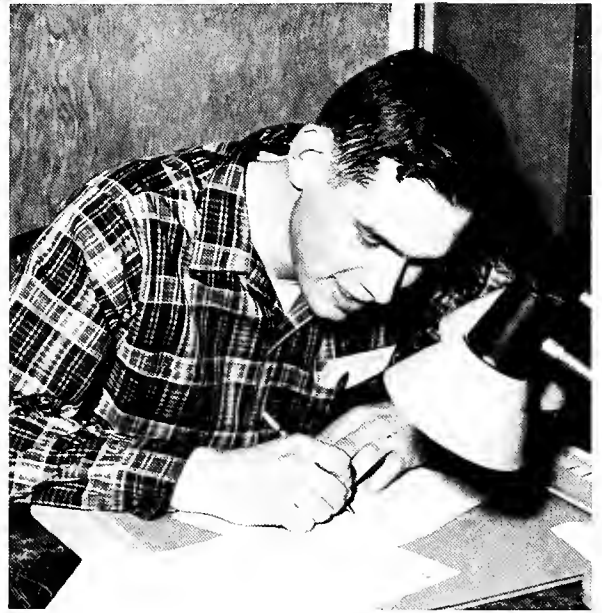

Our lives have been enriched by the many friendships which were formed, not to remain during college, but for a life-time. We of ATG have worked and played together as a team, whether it be in studies or extra curricular activities. We will leave with very fond memories of our "Home away from home," and of "Ma" Mrs. Dempsey and "Dad" our house advisor Mr. Michelson.

As we go our separate ways from the University of Massachusetts and Alpha Tau Gamma into the vast rapidly progressing world we will always remember — "To the light at Bay States friendship, true we'll always be, — still shall gleam across our memories, good old A.T.G." Lest we never forget our Brothers, our standards, our ideals, — our motto.

In Memoriam

WILLIAM HENSHEY

William Henshey, an Arboriculture major in the class of 1961 met sudden death while on placement this past season.

"Al," as he was better known to his friends was well liked by all that knew him. He was also very active in extracurricular activities in addition to maintaining a good academic standard. Our sincere sympathy is extended to his parents and family as well as his many friends.

The class of 1961 wishes to give acknowledgment to our advisors, Mr. Stromgren and Mrs. DuBois for the leadership and help they have given us this past year. As this is a double acknowledgement, so are we doubly grateful for their time and effort. In doing so we have gone only a short way towards fully expressing our appreciation and esteem for them.
